

Coming out – The Very First Slot

The amazing game of slots has been in the gambling arena for a very long time. The first slot machines appeared in the 1890s, though hardly anyone from our time can recognize its first version, so unique-looking it was. Later, in the middle of the 1900s, electromechanical machines were introduced. It had lots of advantages, but a maximum payout of 500 coins was one of the best-known. Video slot machines closely followed its electromechanical predecessor. They were thoroughly tested and appropriately modified, in order to find incredible popularity at first in Las Vegas and later around the world. Actually, in different countries slots got different names. For example, fruit machines were wide-spread in Great Britain (as well as puggy in Scotland), and pokies or poker machines were well-known in Australia and New Zealand. Despite a variety of names for slots, the game is unmistakably a favorite among players all over the world.

Advances in Computer Technology

With the beginning of the fast-forwarding computer and Internet revolution, online casinos were popping up in such quantities, that it was a bit scary, truly. Undoubtedly, slots became an honorable game there, too. As more and more online slot games were developed, the quality of graphic and sound effects increased in leaps and bounds. No wonder, lots of players preferred online slots to its ancestor of brick-and-mortar machines.

Mobile Casinos

Technology advance went on actively and mobile devices were launched proudly. Several years passed and they became even more progressive, featuring state-of-art designs, big screens and a reliable Internet connection. Unsurprisingly, such innovative developments were fast to notice, resulting in the first online casino introduction. It was powered by Microgaming and was quite different from modern online casinos. Getting better with time, they seem to attract lots of players, who feel like switching from reliable PCs to cutting-edge mobile gadgets. And guess, what game remains the favorite? Right, top-rating slots.

Lessons Learned

Despite being a gambling veteran, the game of slots is still in a growing phase. The thing is, more and more unique slot games are launched regularly by various software developers. That's why the collection of online slots is absolutely staggering and continually increasing. The most important lesson slots learned is that a great diversity and high quality backed by brehtaking bonuses are keys to success in the gambling world.

Slots to Try

The variety of slot games is that wide, that sometimes it's challenging to find a good game to play. Here are the most loved slots classified by software providers:

- Avalon, Jurassic Park and Thunderstruck by Microgaming;
- Alladin's Wishes, Achilles Spot and Incan Goddess by RTG;
- Dragon Kingdom, Battle of the Gods and Frankie Dettori's Magic Seven by Playtech;
- Dazzle Me and Neon Staxx by NetEnt.

Are All Mobile Gambling Houses Safe?

Mobile casinos have several priorities, but safety is definitely number one. Finding a reliable gambling harbor is quite easy, especially after reading review boards and forums as well as getting to know top industry names. The well-loved 1HighRollerCasino.com offers mobile slot games online that have already proven their worth. After dropping an anchor there, players don't need to worry about deposit and withdrawal transactions safety. They can also rest assured that no harmful software will be downloaded there. Look around to set off on a pleasant gambling voyage.

All the Trumps in Hand. Make an Opening!

Mobile slots are easy and fun. Whether you choose flash or download modes, free games are always there to enjoy. Plus, money games await eager players looking not only for entertainment, but also for winnings. You always play your trump card in mobile slots!